SENATE RESOLVES TO CONTINUE ENDOWMENT

March 20, 21, and 22 Designated "Clean-Up" Days—Other Resolutions Passed.

The last three days in the week of March 17 were designated by the Law School Senate, by a resolution adopted at a meeting of that body on March 12, as the period to conduct a "clean-up" campaign for Endowment pledges in that school.

The resolution calls upon the students not to wait until approached by team captains or members before subscribing, but to turn in their pledges at the office or to the team officers at once.

Hugo Keman, law chairman, will be in charge of the clean-up drive, with the same committee that conducted the original campaign as his helpers.

The resolution reads: "Be it resolved by the Law School Senate, That March 20, 21, and 22 be set aside as special days for completing the Endowment Drive so far as the Law School is concerned, and that all those students who have not subscribed or have not been approached, are urged in the meantime to offer their subscriptions without waiting to be called upon by the team captains and lieutenants."

Another resolution making the secretary of the Law School a member ex officio of the Law School Senate was adopted.

This resolution will be presented to the several classes for their approval at the annual election held in May. Before it can become effective it must be approved by two-thirds of the student body.

With the passage of this resolution the Senate constitution will provide for two members ex officio, the Dean of Law School and the Law School secretary, with representation from every section.

Dean Van Vleck stated at the meeting that several small rooms on the first floor of the law building will probably be reconstructed into class rooms and allow more space for class accommodation, and that a room on an upper floor is to be turned into a men's lounge, if the present plans are accepted. This will materially aid in solving the question of congestion that has been bothering the officials for a long while.

GIRLS' RIFLE TEAM MEETS DREXEL INSTITUTE MAR. 22

Teams of Both Schools Undeclared
This Season—Will Shoot Match in Philadelphia Saturday

The Girls' Rifle Team will take its first trip of any distance next Saturday morning, March 22, when it will go to Philadelphia to meet the girls' team of Drexel Institute. Both schools boast an unbeaten record. The conditions of the match call for six shooters, the five highest to count; twenty shots to be fired by each shooter in the prone position.

Miss Hart, who is in charge of Girls' Rifle team at Central, and has done much for the G. W. girls, will accompany them to Philadelphia. Walter Stokes has not yet revealed the personnel of the team.

Official results of the Women's Intercollegiate Championship match have not been announced. G. W. has done very well, however. In the last stage the team averaged 183 out of a possible 200; ten shots prone and ten standing. Monday, after the girls return from Philadelphia, they will start shooting a telegraphic match with Cornell.

Saturday afternoon, March 29, the team will go to College Park to meet the University of Maryland. Fine scores have been made by the girls during the year and new victories are hoped for during the completion of the schedule.

HOLDS OPEN MEETING

There will be an open meeting of the Psychological Society in the auditorium of Central High School on Friday, March 21, at 3.45 p. m. "Symposium on Psychological Tests in Education" will be discussed by Dr. Schachne Isaacs of the Psychological Department of Johns Hopkins University and Dr. L. L. Thurston, of the Institute for Government Research.

Tickets may be secured by University students from the Registrar's office for 50 cents each.

CALLS BASEBALL MEETING

A meeting of the representatives of the baseball teams of the several colleges of the University is called for 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, at the office of the director of Student Activities, 728 Twentieth Street N. W., for the purpose of making a schedule for the coming season. This is a very important meeting and all representatives are urged to be present so that their school may have all the advantages possible in the arrangement of the schedule and organization of the interdepartmental league, which are to be settled at that meeting.

MASONIC CLUB TO DANCE AT HOTEL WASHINGTON

Spring Election of Officers Held—More Than 135 Members on Rolls of Society.

Saturday, April 5, is a red-letter day for the Masonic Club of George Washington University, for that is the date set for their spring dance, which will be held in the Rose Room, Hotel Washington, from 9 to 12. The price is two dollars per couple, and tickets may be secured from Paul W. Hammack, in charge of the dance, or from any member of the Masonic Club.

Besides having Meyer Davis music, several novel features have been planned for the evening by the committee in charge.

This has been one of the best years that the club has ever enjoyed, as over 135 members are listed on its rolls. On Wednesday, March 12, officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Those elected are, president, Wm. H. Seaquist; vice presidents (Law), H. H. Mitchell; (Columbian College), H. P. Covington; (Engineering), E. A. Seaquist; (Teachers), Victor DePotter; secretary, W. E. Wiles; treasurer, Sol Friedman; herald, Paul W. Hammack.

The new officers succeed the following officers who served last year: President, Paul W. Hammack; vice presidents (Law), Edwin Brooker; (Columbian College), R. E. Eddins; (English), Wm. H. Seaquist; (Teachers' College), Victor DePotter; secretary, H. H. Mitchell; treasurer, Sol Friedman; herald, R. B. Harding.

Meetings are held on the second Wednesday of every month.

PRES. AND MRS. LEWIS ENTERTAIN STUDENTS

President and Mrs. Lewis entertained the Student Committee of the Building and Endowment Fund Drive at a dance and reception held at the Washington City Club, Monday, March 10, in honor of the student workers of the recent Endowment campaign. This marks the first time that a president of the college has ever entertained students in acknowledgment of the work performed by them for the benefit of the University.

The driving snow and rain made transportation almost as impossible as it was the night of the Junior Prom, but failed to keep 120 "stout-hearted" workers from attending and having a wonderful time.

Dean and Mrs. Hodgkins, Dean and Mrs. Van Vleck, Dean and Mrs. Borden, and the girls' rifle and basketball teams attended as the guests of President and Mrs. Lewis.

JUNIOR LAW CLASS PLANS ENDOWMENT FUND DANCE

The Junior Law Class, at a recent meeting, accepted the suggestion of its president, Leighton C. Taylor, to hold a Building and Endowment Fund Dance the latter part of April, to be under the auspices of the class.

No date or place has yet been accepted, but in all probability it will be held at the New Willard or City Club.

Invitations are extended to all classes in every college to attend, the dance being strictly informal, price $2, and offers an opportunity to "Help Build a Greater G. W. U."

The freshman and senior committees have not yet been appointed. Other committee chairmen are: Edwin Brooker, dance; Miss E. Hally, decorations; A. H. Moran, music and hall; G. M. Brumbaugh, finance; Herbert H. Mitchell, publicity.

PROM ARRANGEMENT COMPLETE

The annual interfraternity Prom will be held at Rauscher's, Friday, March 21, from 10 to 2 o'clock. Excellent music has been secured and a buffet supper is to be served. The favors are unique and attractive, according to members of the committee on arrangements.

DEBATES PENN. STATE ON COURT SUBJECT

To Be Held at Y. M. C. A., Saturday, March 22—Debate Univ. of Penna. and Swarthmore

The affirmative George Washington University varsity team will debate Penn State, March 22, 8 p. m., in the Y. M. C. A. building, on "Resolved, That the United States should adhere to the protocol establishing a World Court with the Hughes reservations." The home team consists of the veteran debater, W. I. Cleveland, Bartley Corbin, and J. O. Cade.

The president of the debating council, E. L. Scheufler, announces a debate for May 3 between the George Washington University affirmative team, made up of Henry Temin, Frank Smith, and Karl G. Pearson, to debate the University of Pittsburgh, May 3, 1924. This team is to fight out the subject, "Resolved, That the courts should be deprived of the final power to declare Federal statutes unconstitutional." The debate will be held at Pittsburgh. This team will probably debate the University of Boston also.

A. H. Moran, "Lew" Wallace, and Edwin S. Bettelheim compose the negative on the World Court question. They expect to knock the adherents of United States entrance into the League "through a back door" forever off their pedestal, they claim. The opportunity will come when they debate the University of North Carolina on May 10, or earlier.

A college girl can argue and persuade anyone. The girls' debating teams of George Washington University are going to prove this when they get into the "war of words" on the affirmative and negative of the United States entrance into the World Court. They are going to have their verbal oratory against the University of Pennsylvania and Swarthmore College. The team consists of Helen Newman, Isabel Yates, and Elizabeth Edwards. Then the other girls' team is going to defend the Supreme Court's invalidating power against its traducers, who will be the girls' team from Swarthmore College. The George Washington University girls' team, which defends the Supreme Court, consists of Margaret Conlyn, Denise Levy, and Irene Kershner.

Professor C. S. Collier, of the Law School, has been directing the coaching of these teams. Other professors have assisted him. They have together primed the teams up to win over all opponents. Come out next Saturday to the Y. M. C. A. and hear the first victory.

PLAYERS TO ENTERTAIN WITH COMEDY ON APRIL 2

April 2 at 8.15, in Lisner Hall, "Sallie for Keeps," a delightful comedy, will be given by the Players. "Seven Days," Mary Roberts Rinehart's most popular comedy, has been decided upon for the endowment play. All who are interested in trying out for this will please communicate with Miss Espey at North 3290.

LECTURE COURSE GIVEN

A course of lectures on the history of drama is being given at the Cosmos Club by professors of George Washington University for the benefit of students of the University and others of Washington who may be interested in that subject.

Dr. Robert W. Bolwell delivered the first lecture, March 7, which introduced the subject and prepared the way for the other speakers. He spoke of the origin of drama with the religious festivals held by the ancient Greeks, and followed its many stages of development until the time of Shakespeare, when the modern form of drama became popular.

Dean William Allen Wilbur spoke March 14, on Shakespeare, his works, and his influence on future writers of plays. Dean Wilbur's lecture was especially interesting, as he is one of the foremost Shakespearean critics of the country.

The other lectures come in the following order: March 21, Dean George N. Henning will speak on French drama; Dr. Hermann Schoenfeld, March 28, on German drama; April 3, Professor Henry Grattan Doyle, on the drama of Spain; and Professor De Witt Croissant will conclude the course April 11, when he will speak on modern drama.

These men have been chosen to speak because they are particularly well informed on these subjects, and therefore the lectures are very interesting and well worth hearing.

PRESIDENT LEWIS SPEAKS

William Mather Lewis, president of the University, on Wednesday, March 12, addressed the annual meeting of the Association of Military Colleges and Schools of the United States on "What the College Expects of the Prep School."

President Lewis will speak at the Alumni dinner, to be held in Philadelphia on March 20. This dinner is being held for the purpose of organizing a George Washington Alumni Association in that city.

DEAN WILBUR LECTURES ON SHAKESPEARE'S PLAYS

Fifth Number on G. W. U.'s Lecture Course Is Delivered at the Cosmos Club

Shakespeare's plays were discussed by Dean William Allen Wilbur in his lecture at the Cosmos Club Friday evening, March 14. This interesting and instructive discourse was the fifth number on the George Washington University Lecture Course.

Dean Wilbur divided Shakespeare's plays into four groups, the first being the comedies. He discussed the several comedies, showing the motives underlying each one. The earlier comedies were negative in their character and implication, while the later ones were positive.

The historical plays have a natural sequence, and might be regarded as different acts in one play. There are five acts, each of which is a play, with an epilogue, "Henry VIII." The Merry Wives of Windsor is included in the historical plays, as an episode, between acts. It follows "Henry IV," which is the second act of the great drama.

Each of the tragedies concerns itself with one tragic quality. For instance, "Romeo and Juliet" is a tragedy of circumstance; "King Lear" is a tragedy of fear. In "Romeo and Juliet," the first tragedy, Shakespeare portrays the triumph of love over hate. In the last tragedy, "Coriolanus," he portrays the triumphs of love over pride.

The last division is the group of philosophical plays. This group includes "Troilus and Cressida," "Measure for Measure," "Winter's Tale," "The Tempest," and others. In most of these plays he is searching for the thing which humanity needs, trying reason, morality, and art in several of the plays. In "Winter's Tale" he decided that the pureness and chastity of woman is the thing which humanity needs most.

Dean Wilbur gave sketches of all the more important plays, and mentioned the principles involved in the rest. He showed how the plays were connected with each other by the connection in the ideas. The lecture was interesting because he brought out points about Shakespeare which are not commonly known, but which are matters of general interest.

FIRST TEAM SHOOTS 955 IN THIRD N. R. A. MATCHES

G. W.'s two rifle teams entered in the N. R. A. Intercollegiate Championship Match, did well in the third and last stage, which consisted of prone and standing shooting. The first team's score of 955 x 1,000 was particularly noteworthy.

George A. Anadale, with 98 in the standing position and 100 prone, led the second high man, Captain Walter Stokes, by 3 points. This very remarkable score made Anadale, excepting Captain Stokes, the high individual on the teams over the three courses with 587 x 600, for which he will receive the cup offered by Manager Espey for the high individual score. James M. Barry made the second high score, 585 x 600.

The first team dropped only 75 points out of a possible 3,000 over the three stages. Heretofore the team has lost 100 or more.

The unofficial scores are as follows:

First Team	Prone	St'd	Total
Walter R. Stokes	100	95	195
George A. Anadale	100	98	198
James M. Barry	100	91	191

Second Team	Prone	St'd	Total

The standing of the entrants will be announced shortly by the N. R. A.

PYRAMID GIVES MORSE VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Elects Nine Men, Leaders in Activities, to Membership—Banquet to Be Held April 4.

Pyramid Honor Society in a meeting Thursday, March 13, at the Law School, went on record as approving the administration of Bryan Morse, the director of Student Activities. The society, which is composed of seniors who have maintained high scholastic averages and are leaders in the student activities, also held its annual spring election of members from senior activity leaders. According to the secretary, Francis W. Brown, nine men were elected. He refused to divulge their names. These men will be initiated at the annual banquet, which is to be held at the Hotel Lafayette, Friday, April 4. Robert H. McNeil is chairman of the banquet committee.

The resolution which was adopted by the society follows:

Whereas it has come to the attention of the Pyramid Honor Society of George Washington University, which is composed of seniors, leaders in various student activities, that certain person or persons have maliciously libeled and slandered the character of the present director of student activities, Bryan Morse, and have attempted in various ways to discredit his administration of the above mentioned student activities in the minds of the student body; and

Whereas it is not only an injustice to the Director of Student Activities but tends to destroy, discourage, and hamper the carrying on of the student activities, the interests that is Pyramid's paramount duty to protect; be it therefore

Resolved, That Pyramid Honor Society, in regular session this 13th day of March, 1924, express its unshaken confidence in the administration of Bryan Morse, director of student activities, and pledge its aid in carrying on of the activities, and in this way maintain the confidence of the student body in the said student activities and its director; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to Bryan Morse, director of student activities, the President of the University, the Board of Managers, to the president of the Student Council, and that a copy be published in the University Hatchet.

HATCHETTE GIRLS LOSE GAME BY NARROW MARGIN

Captain B. Woodford and Daisy Robison played their swan song for G. W. basketball last Tuesday night when the girls' team was defeated at the hands of William and Mary by a score of 25 to 23.

It was victory for the home team until the last five minutes of play, when wild passing on the part of the guards gave the visitors two baskets. Contrary to expectations, G. W. proved superior to William and Mary all the way, and held a consistent lead. The William and Mary team has been exceptionally strong all season and toward the end of the second half, made a determined effort to "come back." It would not have been successful had the guards of G. W. watched their passing more closely.

As usual, Alice Ewers starred at forward, playing one of her best games this season. Center field was considerably strengthened by having Winifred Faunce in side-center. Her accurate passing and good interference had much to do with G. W.'s good showing.

William and Mary was ending a week's trip, after having defeated University of Pennsylvania and Adelphi, and being defeated by Temple. Miss Dixon, forward, and Miss Gibbons, guard, did excellent work. Much to the amusement of the spectators, the William and Mary baggage failed to arrive in time for the game, with the consequence that some wore black, some blue, and some even the G. W. uniforms, while one young lady was forced to appear in what seemed suspiciously like a sawed-off pair of gray flannels, which put the Hatchette out to shame for their modest appearance.

The History Club will meet on Tuesday night at 8.15 in the lecture room of 2017 G Street. The chief subject for discussion will be Fascism, and a defense of Fascism will be given by Mr. D. L. Pucci, who has made a special study of it. Everyone is invited.

WIN BY COOPERATION

"I believe that a spirit of cooperation is necessary before the University can expand to its greatest capacity."

The above sentence is a quotation from the creed of President Lewis. In September such a thing as cooperation seemed impossible, but after a year of trial we can see the results of such an earnest effort.

In September we tried cooperation and sank personal animosities in putting over the Roll Call. The University sighed and waited to be shown if it was the novelty of the thing or if we could really cooperate.

Then came the endowment drive, and again the students sank personalities in an effort to help their college. They worked then for love of place rather than love of self.

This spring we will have a track and field meet of all organizations and classes. Again the University will come together, this time in groups, but all for the good of the University.

To cap the climax will come Union Vodvil composed of representatives of the organizations. Personal feelings will again be submerged in an effort to put over an entertainment worthy of the University.

Pi Beta Phi is having a Rummage Sale on March 17, 18 and 19 at 1715 1/2 Seventh Street. The proceeds will go to the Settlement School at Gatlinburg, Tenn., which is supported by the Fraternity. This means of raising money is being taken this year instead of a tea dance, which is usually given. The committee in charge is headed by Helen Hanford.

Delta Zeta announces a benefit card party to be given on March 18 at the Burlington Hotel from 2 to 5 o'clock. The tickets are 50 cents each and may be obtained from any member of the Fraternity or at the door.

Elizabeth Jaquette, Flora Lapham and Mary Griffith went to Annapolis on Saturday.

Phi Sigma gave a dance at the Acacia House on Monday.

Zeta Chapter of Sigma Kappa is giving a tea in honor of Miss Monroe, their Grand President, on Sunday, March 23, at the University Women's Club. Beside the chapter members, many of the faculty and friends of the Fraternity have been invited.

Gladys Hughes and Edna Kilpatrick spent the week-end in Annapolis.

Phi Mu gave a dinner party in their rooms on St. Patrick's Day.

The Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi gave a bridge party for the benefit of the George Washington Endowment Fund on Saturday, March 15, at the Hotel Roosevelt.

Betty Corl and Dorothy Bartley, of Sigma Kappa, went to Annapolis Saturday.

Kappa Delta Sorority gave a dinner party to a number of girl friends on Saturday evening, March 15, at the chapter house, 1517 Rhode Island Avenue N. W.

Gamma Beta Pi announces the marriage of Miss Vesta Lancy to Calvin H. Mann, Friday, March 7th, at the St. James Episcopal Church, Mobile, Ala.

Birthday parties are getting to be a habit in the office of the Dean of Women and that of the Registrar of the University, as Evelyn Jones, one of the members of the administration office force, was feted on Friday, March 14.

Stupid Stephen Says

We take our hats off to the man who in spite of the lack of student support, the decided tendency on the part of the faculty to let things go blooie, adverse criticisms, knocks, and selfishness on every hand, has yet been able to put a football team on the field, maintain a semblance of a basketball team, track team, swimming team, and a good rifle team. BRYAN MORSE. How many students in the University today would be attending a university if it were not for the work George Washington is doing for them? Get in back of your school. You are being branded a George Washington man or woman. Be proud of that brand, fight for compulsory student activities tax, so that the teams will have the necessary funds to carry on the banner of George Washington. Again we wish to congratulate Bryan Morse, the man who has made ten thousand dollars do the work of fifty thousand. What will happen when we have this fifty, and Bryan Morse is still able to do the financing he has been doing? Hall, ho, G. W. U. Oh, mommer! Look out, Yale; look out, Oxford!

A well known Prof. in the University does not mind the students sleeping in his classes; that can't be helped. But he does object to the reading of magazines. The hosiery advertisements are disconcerting, are they not?

Lee Alden had on galoshes the other day. He was heard to remark that he did not intend letting any of them co-eds get ahead of him.

Nalls, running down campus (G St.)—"Wow, whoopee; oh, oh—"

Langston (the mysterious)—"Hey, hold on; what's the matter?"

Nalls—"I just had a dream. I dreamt a girl kissed me."

Langston (T. M.)—"But why all the howling?"

Nalls—"She bit me."

Lester Johnson—"May I hold your hand?"

A meek, mild, 'til G. W. Co-ed—"Ye-ye-yes."

L. J.—"May I put my arm around you?"

M. M. L. G. W. co-ed—"Er-yes."

L. J.—"Um-er-ah-ooe—may I kiss you?"

M. M. L. G. W. co-ed—"Oh, for Pete sake, wata you wasting so much time for?"

At It Again

Jack Hayes (alias "Abdul")—"Say, did you see that girl smile at me?"

Charles Hayes—"Yes, I saw her smile."

J. H. (alias "Abdul")—"Er, I wonder should I give her my phone number?"

Us which don't happen to be co-ed remark: "The co-eds have a very nice clubroom; that is, so we are told. But putting it in very plain English, wherehell is ours?"

Evidently the President don't read this junk, because I saw five thousand students fall down those dark steps in front of buildings 5 and 6. Ten thousand of them knocked out their teeth and the other fifteen thousand broke their legs and arms and things.

You know tobacco is a vegetable; it grows out of the ground, and when it's green, it is too harsh and strong to smoke. The very best way to remove that harshness and bitterness is by thorough ageing in wood. To age Velvet Tobacco in wood is expensive for us—yes, very expensive, and it takes time, but it gives you a milder, cooler smoke with a finer flavor.

The way to get the finest shave

The Hinge-Cap is a sure way of identifying Williams Shaving Cream. And Williams, besides giving you the convenient Hinge-Cap, will improve your shave in three ways:

First, the lather is heavier and holds the moisture in against the beard. Quicker and more thorough softening of the beard results. Second, the razor glides more easily through the Williams-softened beard because Williams lather lubricates the skin. Lastly, an ingredient in Williams keeps the skin in good condition no matter how heavy your beard nor how frequently you shave. In addition, you'll enjoy Williams because it is a pure, natural white cream without coloring matter of any kind. Ask for it.

G. W. CLUB ORGANIZED TO FOSTER ATHLETICS

Organization of Major Letter Men to Promote Student Interest and Cooperation

George Washington University has a G. W. Club, composed of letter men who have won letters in the major sports of the University, which is "doing things" in its particular field.
This organization was founded at the beginning of the year, due primarily to the efforts of Hillory A. Tolson, Captain of the Track Squad; Walter Stokes, Coach of the Rifle Team; E.
S. Bettelheim, Jr., Manager of Basketball, 1923; Robert H. McNeil, Manager of Football, 1922; H. Clay Espey and Baxter Smith, of the Rifle Team; David Strother and Francis Clements, of the Football Squad; and Joseph Rutley, of the Tennis Team. The G.
W. Club has a membership of 45, representing every major sport in the University, and an effort is being made to have every letter man join before the end of the present school year.

The present officers of the G. W.
Club are: Hillory A. Tolson, President; Walter Stokes, Vice President; Wm. Thomas, Secretary; E. S. Bettel-heim, Jr., Treasurer; and Francis W.
Clements, Marshal; all of them men who have been active in athletic affairs at George Washington.

The key worn by the G. W. Club members was designed by H. Clay Espey, and makes a very attractive emblem. The key is of substantial construction with the block letters "G.
W." worked in gold with a background of dark blue enamel, bringing out the Buff and Blue effect of the University's colors.

Objects for which the organization was founded as stated in its constitution are (1) "To encourage the development of and promote cooperation among the various branches of athletics at George Washington University"; and (2) "To increase the general student interest in athletics at George Washington University."

It is the plan of the Club to cooperate in every way with the officials of the University who have charge of the supervision of athletics with a view to accomplishing these ends.
The Club believes that with the development of the Greater George Washington University, the athletic side should be given the consideration which it merits.

The G. W. Club is planning a campaign for members among alumni letter men with a view to developing an organization which will take an even greater part in helping to formulate the athletic policies of the University. A Club of this nature would always be looking for athletic material for the various teams, have some voice in the selection of coaches, keep up the interest and spirit of the students, and bring the athletes of the various sports together.

Pat: A whale.

Sweet zephyrs sweep from the south bringing with them the first warm breath of spring. The intrepid robin who first staggered northward brings joy to heart of the college Prof. Spring is here.
In the spring the good Profs. turn to thoughts of golf. As Patrick Henry Doyle remarked, "The next gale which sweeps from the south will bring to our ears the sound of the golfers' sweet cuss words."
The Profs. are already on the links, and I say "Give me golf or give me death!" Nights are anxious for our golf fiends and the weather man is awakened by golfers asking about the weather. Beware of the Ides of March, oh golfers.

LACK OF GYM FORCES CANCELING TOURNAMENT

The annual basketball tournament held by George Washington University for the high schools of the District of Columbia and surrounding States, has been called off this year because of the impossibility of getting a suitable gymnasium. The Coliseum, which has served the Hatchettes as a home floor this year, can not be secured because of a fair that is being held there during the week in which the tournament was scheduled. This comes as a great disappointment to the basketball fans who are concerned and is but another argument in favor of a gym for the University.

The director of Student Activities, Bryan Morse, has announced that the tournament will be held next year, and it is hoped that it will be in a gym belonging to George Washington University.

THETA DELTS WIN TITLE BOWLING MATCH

Sigma Nu Team Takes Second Honors
in Interfrat Championship
Bowling Contest

Theta Delta Chi, exhibiting excellent form, romped away with the interfraternity bowling title, Monday, March 10, at the Recreation Alleys.
Bowling consistently throughout, and interspersing their score with numerous strikes and spares, nothing could stop them. In the final two games of the match, Sigma Nu, the sole obstacle between Theta Delta Chi and the cup, was defeated, 508 to 450 and 470 to 449.

The first two heats of the match were bowled off Tuesday, March 4, eliminating all teams but those of Theta Delta Chi, Sigma Nu, Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The last two heats, bowled March 10, found Sigma Nu matched against Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Kappa Alpha against Theta Delta Chi. Sigma Nu and Theta Delta Chi both won their games, and were matched against each other in the final struggle for the cup. The title was to be awarded to the winner of two out of three games in the final match.
Theta Delta Chi won both games.

Theta Delta Chi was not mentioned in the last issue of the Hatchet as being left in the running, as they had bowled off their match with Delta Tau Delta at the King Pin Alleys instead of the designated place, unknown to the chairman of the committee in charge. It was thought that both teams had forfeited.

Bill Hixon, Charles Pledger, Clayton Hixon, Vernon Brown, and Edwin Wemple bowled on the winning team.

NOTES PROGRESS

Cherry Tree editors are gratified at the cooperation which has been shown on the part of University organizations in getting copy in with pictures and other data. Students having snapshots of general interest will add to the success of the book by sending any such pictures to the editor.

Over a third of all copy has been placed in the hands of the printer and another batch will go forward on Wednesday, March 19. The Cherry Tree staff at present is busy pasting up pictures into groupings.

The presidents and secretaries of classes in the Engineering School are urged to send in their lists of class officers at once.

Any seniors or others contemplating purchasing additional copies of the 1924 Cherry Tree should place their orders early with Edwin S. Bettelheim, Jr., 319 Metropolitan Bank Building. Orders should be accompanied by a five dollar check for each book with names and addresses to which they shall be sent.

IMMIGRATION HOLIDAY

Program Arranged By Members of Morse's Class Presented in Lisner Hall.

On Monday, March 10, Professor William Northrop Morse's English Class in "Oral Composition" gave the second of the series of debates, the subject being "Resolved, That the United States declare a five-year holiday on immigration." The speakers were Wm. P. Hunt, Margaret Hatfield, Lynda Carver, on the affirmative, and R. C. Spencer, Mrs. Margarette Mulligan, and Winifred Williams, on the negative.

By a vote of the class the decision was rendered in favor of the affirmative.

Friday night, March 14, at 8.15, English 45 presented a program in Lisner Hall under direction of Prof. Morse. It was carried out in a way that is not often seen except on the professional stage. The two pantomimes were written by Miss LuVerne Crabtree, a member of the class, and were cleverly produced. The program follows:

1. Original Speech, "The Four-Power Treaty," William P. Hunt.
  2. Recitation, Miss Dorothy M. Parton.
  3. Songs, Miss Zeulah Smith.
  4. Pantomime, "The Crest of the Crime Wave," written by Miss LuVerne Crabtree. Characters, Burglar, Leon E. A. Chagnon; child, Miss Lois Himes.
  5. Recitation, Miss Dorothy S. Coffman.
  6. Pianologues, Miss Laura Lovett.
  7. Original Speech, "A Banquet of Business Men," Herve L'Heureux.
  8. Monologues, Miss Lovett.
  9. Pantomime, "Love in Arizona," Miss Crabtree. The girl, Miss Marian Barker; the villain, Lyle W. Ohlander; the hero, Wm. P. Hunt.
- Committee from the class: Robert C. Spencer, Miss Carver, Miss Hatfield, Mrs. Fred Moss, Miss Parton, Miss Zeulah Smith, Miss St. Clair. Stage, William P. Hunt and Kermit Girdner.

PROMISING TENNIS SQUAD
STARTS SEASON EARLY

First Meeting Held Last Week—Captain Gore, of Dumbarton Club, to Assist.

Candidates for the Tennis Team met Coach Hugh Miller, of the Engineering school, Thursday evening, in Lisner Hall. There were about twenty men present to hear him outline the plans for the coming season and give instructions as to practice.

Captain A. Gore, of the Dumbarton Club, has consented to assist Coach Miller in the training of George Washington's netmen. He was present at the meeting and gave the men a short talk.

Joseph Van Ende, who last year won the South Atlantic Intercollegiate singles championship, will not be with the squad this season, but there are others who will undoubtedly develop into players of Van Ende's class. Among them are Klopsch, captain of this year's team, Law, Aten, Holt, Beale, Robison, and a splendid group of new men who have shown their ability in tennis in the Washington High Schools.

Practice begins immediately on the cement courts at the Reno Reservoir, 11th and M Streets N. W. Regular practice hours have been set on Monday, Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday, from 2 p. m. until 4 p. m.

All students interested in trying out for the team are asked to get in touch with Coach Miller or Manager Young as soon as possible.

A "Commons" Club has been formed at Dickinson to give nonfraternity the same privileges as fraternity men.

The President of Yale is in favor of keeping the coaches away from their teams during the scheduled events, and it is predicted that Yale, Harvard, and Princeton will play their big contests with the coaches seated among the spectators.

Goucher College is launching a campaign to raise $6,000,000. If the campaign succeeds, it is planned to move the college to the country.

The Glee Club of the University of California will tour the principal cities of the United States, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany and France during the summer.
